

Steve Rollins, Esq.

*Acting Associate Commissioner, Office of Disability Policy
Social Security Administration*

Mr. Rollins joined the Social Security Administration (SSA) in 2019. Before joining SSA, he was the Director of the Pennsylvania Bureau of Disability Determination for over four years. He entered that position after owning and managing Rollins Law Office where he worked for 15 years. In this capacity, he represented individuals with cases involving Social Security Disability Benefits and Supplemental Security Income at the administrative and federal court of appeal levels. He was a former legal counsel to the United States Department of Health and Human Services Office of General Counsel. Mr. Rollins has lectured on Social Security law for many organizations. These include the Pennsylvania Bar Institute, the Pennsylvania Trial Lawyers Association, the Pennsylvania State University Dickinson School of Law, and the National Organization of Social Security Claimants' Representatives. He has also lectured for various support, insurance, and medical groups.

Mr. Rollins received a Bachelor of Science in Computer Science from Lock Haven University of Pennsylvania. He was awarded his Juris Doctorate from Temple University's Beasley School of Law.

Jeff Olivet

Executive Director

United States Interagency Council on Homelessness

Jeff Olivet is Executive Director of the United States Interagency Council on Homelessness. He has worked to prevent and end homelessness for more than 25 years as a street outreach worker, case manager, coalition builder, researcher, and teacher. Prior to joining USICH, he founded jo consulting, co-founded Racial Equity Partners, and served as CEO of C4 Innovations.

Throughout his career, he has worked extensively in the areas of homelessness and housing, health and behavioral health, HIV, education, and organizational development. Jeff has been principal investigator on multiple research studies, including the SPARC initiative, the first large-scale national study to examine the intersection of structural racism and homelessness. Jeff is deeply committed to social justice, racial equity, gender equality, and inclusion for all.

He has a bachelor's degree from the University of Alabama and a master's degree from Boston College.